REPUBLICAN NOMINEES FOR DISTRICT JUDGESHIPS

The Carson Free Lance says
On January 1st, 1887, there will be but three District Judges instead of seven as at present. The names of our present District Judges are Edwards, Rising, Murphy, Bigelow, McKinney, Rives and Boardman. At least four of these must retire. All but one of these are Republicans and it is whispered that he (Rives) like Attorney Baker of Eureka has gone into the Republican ranks, and will be a candidate before the Republican Convention for a Judgeship. Rising, for twenty one successive years on the bench is said to be certain of a nomination. As much is asserted by his friends for McKinney who has served faithfully and well on the bench for sixteen successive years. To our personal knowledge neither of these jurists would accept the nomination for Supreme Judge, preferring rather to return to the practice of law. Through our political glasses we read the names of two Republican nominees for Judgeship, Rising and McKinney. As a Republican the name of Rives could not be considered. Washoe county factions will probably kill Boardman's chances. Edwards is a dignified politician, or rather he refuses to pull wiles at all for this judicial position, hence is likely to be undermined by some one less conscientious. Murphy is not pronounced as a candidate, but it is believed that in his imitatively shrewd way he is bending his energies for a nomination. Bigelow is more pronounced and his friends are active. The situation now seems to be that the Republicans will nominate for District Judges Rising, McKinney and either Bigelow or Murphy.

Inter-State Commerce.

The following is a brief synopsis of a bill to regulate inter-State Commerce, reported from the Senate Select Committee on Inter-State Railroad Transportation by Callum. After specifying the classes of carriers, or rather the kinds of traffic to which the regulations prescribed are to apply, and declaring that all charges made by such carriers shall be reasonable, the preliminary section aims to prohibit every variety of unjust discrimination, prescribes adequate penalties therefore, and for their enforcement in the Court of the United States. The sections include the requirement that all carriers shall afford reasonable facilities for the interchange of traffic with connecting lines, and the prohibition of a greater charge for a longer distance, except when it can be affirmatively established by the carrier that such charge does not constitute an unjust discrimination. Another section requires all carriers subject to the provision of the proposed Act to file their tariffs and classifications with the Inter-State Commerce Commission, and provides that they shall be posted or otherwise published, but leaves it to be determined by the Commission as to the manner of publication and the place at and between which the rates shall be published. Provision is made for enforcing the requirements of the Commission in those respects through the Courts, and for the maintenance of the rates that may be published. Provision is also made for the appointment by the President of five Commissioners, to be confirmed by the Senate, and there are several sections prescribing the duties of the Commissioners and the manner in which complaints are to be investigated and prosecution instituted under its direction when found necessary.

The bill giving United States District Judges $5,000 a year, and prohibiting them from appointing their relatives to office in their Courts, has passed the Senate.

It is said that an Assistant Treasurer at New York will be appointed this week. Five men have already declined the office. John N. Haywood is strongly backed for the place.

Steering rates from European points to this country have been raised by all the steamship lines to $20, an advance of $5.

Nilsen has signed a contract with Strakosh for a tour of America, beginning in October.

THE MODERN MONTEZUMA
A Hard Road to Travel in Seeking Confirmation of His Nomination.

CHICAGO, January 18.—The Inter-Ocean's Washington special says. The nomination now pending in the Senate against which the most formidable opposition is made is that of Edmund G. Ross to be Governor of the Territory of New Mexico, and papers that have been filed with the Committee on Territories contain almost every charge that could possibly be brought against the man Governor Ross was formerly United States Senator from Kansas and served from 1865 to 1871. During the impeachment trial of President Johnson he was first on one side and then upon the other, but finally voted in favor of acquittal, and met his political doom as far as Kansas was concerned. For two or three years he did not return to the State, even while serving as its representative in the Senate, but after the expiration of his term went back there, and being without friends and money was compelled to resort to his old trade of printing and set type for a living.

General Butler, who is understood to keep a judgment-book, in which many pages are devoted to impeachment times, has been in Washington for several days and is said to have laid before the Committee on Territories a biography of Governor Ross that would make interesting reading. General Butler believes that Ross was induced to vote for the acquittal of Johnson by one Perry Fuller, a Kansas politician, since dead. Johnson, no doubt, as Butler is able to show, expected to receive a large price for his vote, but was sold out by Fuller, who pocketed all of the reward and was at once made Collector of Internal Revenue at New Orleans by President Johnson.

The most entertaining portion of the record is that which describes his inauguration. The Pueblo Indians, descendants of the Aztecs, who constitute about one-half of the population of New Mexico, have faith that Montezuma will some day return to rule over his kingdom, and the old caniques, or priests, teach that he will come at day-break on the back of a white eagle. Ross got the idea that it would have a great effect upon the Pueblos if he should come to assume authority as Governor in the guise of the Aztec Messiah, and with some of his friends got up a procession, at the head of which he, in the most gorgeous attire that he could construct, rode on a white horse into Santa Fe at break of day and took the oath of office in the plaza. This nonsense disgusted the people thoroughly. The official acts of Ross since he became Governor are reviewed in great detail and he is charged with doing almost everything that a Governor should not do. His personal and official character both are attacked, and it is believed that his nomination will be rejected.

COLORED LABORERS

E. J. Baldwin continues for Labor from North Carolina.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., January 16.—The exodus of colored laborers from North Carolina for points West is beginning to excite some interest. Charlotte is a railroad center and it is here emigration parties are made up and railroad agents meet and arrange for their transportation. Not less than three hundred have left the State, mostly for Arkansas and Kansas, but there seems to be no further demand for them in Kansas. They are now going to California. Last night seventy were turned over to the Santa Fe and Missouri-Pacific Roads for transportation to California. This batch of emigrants are bound for Los Angeles, having contracted to work in the vineyards and the field of E. J. Baldwin, who owns over two million acres of land. According to an agreement made with Baldwin, through his agent, before leaving here, they are to get $12 per month for the first year and board and house free. Baldwin advanced money to pay for their transportation to Los Angeles, the price per ticket being $69.70.

It is stated that the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad will extend its line to Cornucopia, U. T., within a year. The terminus is now at Fort Fetterman, Wyo. T., 450 miles distant.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM
Alleged Violation of the Rules in New York.

A New York Tribune's Washington special says. Charges against Collector Hellen and Surveyor Beatty, it is understood, will be laid before Secretary Manning this week by the Civil Service Reform Association of New York. They will embrace cases, it is said, in which men have been promoted out of a lower grade not included in the classified service into places covered by the civil service rules, without the formality even of an examination. As no appointments in the New York Custom House are ever made without being first submitted to the Secretary of the Treasury for approval, it is reasonable to suppose that Manning was cognizant of the violation of the law of which the Civil Service Reform Association are about to complain. In the Treasury, moreover, similar appointments are frequently made, with this difference only, that instead of from lower grades, men are put into the classified service from higher places not intended to be covered by the civil service law. What the association hopes to accomplish by presenting its charges to Manning is difficult to say.

Our Mineral Product.

The San Francisco Call says.
The business of the mining industries of the United States, as shown by the array of figures gathered from the report of the United States Geological Survey for 1881, almost passes belief, yet the reliability of the Government figures may not be questioned. According to this report no less than $800,000,000—consider the immensity of this sum—is invested in mining enterprises as productive capital. Over 400,000 people are furnished employment, and the product of 1881 was valued at no less than $113,104,620. Some of the figures which go to make up this total are in the nature of surprises. For instance, that product which yielded the most money was not one of the precious metals, or, in fact, a metal at all—it was bituminous coal of which there were taken out 73,730,539 long tons, valued at $77,417,066. Next comes pig iron with 4,697,868 long tons valued at $73,761,624. Next is Pennsylvania anthracite coal with 33,175,750 long tons, worth $66,331,512. Thus it will be seen that coal and iron, each so much dependent upon the other, are our two greatest mineral products. Silver and gold rank third and fourth in the list, the former with 37,744,605 troy ounces, valued at $18,800,000, and gold with 1,489,949 troy ounces, valued at $30,800,000. Petroleum is next in rank with 24,089,758 barrels, worth $20,476,294, and is followed by building stone with a product valued at $19,000,000, and lime, 37,000,000 barrels, worth $18,500,000. Copper and lead bring up the rear of the principal products. Of copper there were extracted 145,221,934 pounds, valued at $17,789,687, and of lead 139,807 short tons, worth $10,567,042. The smallest amount in quantity and value of any mineral in the classified list is platinum, of which but 150 troy ounces were produced, valued at $450, and the next smallest is aluminum with 1,800 troy ounces, worth $1,350. Natural gas is quoted as a mineral product and it is represented that a value of $1,460,000 was produced. Unfortunately the total number of feet is not given, so that it is impossible to ascertain the cost per foot as a means of comparison with the charges of our gas companies. Considering the universality of that dingy little coin, the nickel, product of the mineral of the same name was not large, being $4,550 pounds, valued at $18,512. The remaining leading items in the list are Zinc, 38,514 short tons, worth $3,422,707, quicksilver, 31,913 flasks, $936,327, salt, 6,514,937 barrels, $4,197,731, cement, 4,000,000 barrels, $3,720,000, limestone for iron flux, 3,491,930 long tons, $1,769,965, South Carolina phosphate rock, 431,779 long tons, $2,734,784, New Jersey marble, 875,000 short tons, $437,500, borax, 7,000,000 pounds, $490,000, mica, 147,410 pounds, $308,525, white zinc, 13,000 short tons, $910,000. Under the head "Other Mineral Products," is placed a valuation of $11,062,631.

There are some surprises in these figures for the average reader who does not pay particular attention to the output of our mines, and it is no disparagement to anybody's intelligence to express the belief that not one in a hundred, is asked the direct question, would have answered that coal and iron are our two greatest mineral products. The immensity of these products, their being seemingly inexhaustible (Pennsylvania claims to be able to maintain her present output of coal for 800 years), the wide range covered, and many other points which will strike the reader as he glances over the figures, afford material for a great deal more comment than a limited space will permit. It is questionable, however, if any other country can show such a wide range of products. When the figures for 1885 become available, which will not be for many months, the above totals are all expected to be very materially increased.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY
Proposed Annexation of the Idaho Panhandle.

WASHINGTON, January 17.—Delegate Voorhees is pushing the bill he introduced to cut off the northern portion of Idaho, which is known as the "Panhandle," from that Territory and having it added to Washington Territory. He is of the opinion that the Committee on Territories will report favorably on the measures in a short time. Voorhees also said that he thought the Senate Committee on Territories would report in favor of the bill for the admission of Washington Territory.

DON'T BELIEVE IT.—The Reno Gazette says Storey county has always been Democratic when the miners have been allowed free expression to their opinions. Does the Gazette mean to intimate that the miners of Storey are such miserable lick-spittles as to submit to the suppression of their honest opinions, or to yield the privilege of voting in accordance therewith? Does it countess that when the county has gone Republican it was because of the bulldozing of the leaders of that party? We believe such assertions to be gross libels upon the miners and the Republican leaders in Storey county.—Times-Review.

 The C. P. R. R. now wants the Supreme Court to let it in for a share of the judgments in the Thompson suits against the Saving Bank stockholders, having failed to avail itself of the privilege originally granted.
 The snow storm of Monday night continued until ten or twelve inches of the beautiful had fallen, and yesterday the merry jingle of the bells could be heard throughout the town. One good cold turn and the sleighing would be fine.
 The Carson Free Lance has lately been enlarged to a six column paper. The Free Lance is one of the best weekly newspapers in the State. It makes a specialty of the doings of the State officials, is lively in its editorial page, and such a paper as every good citizen of the State should subscribe and pay for.

The New Harper's Geographies.
 In an interview with A. L. Bancroft & Co., Prof. Young has learned that the new Harper's geographies are completed and now on their way from New York. It is believed that the Nevada edition is now as perfect as it is possible to make it and cannot fail to please the school patrons. The book has a world wide fame and the Harper's have gone to an expense of several hundred dollars in preparing this Nevada edition to meet the wants of the schools of this State. The books will be ready for distribution on or before February 1st.

New Aurora Boom.
 A correspondent of the Carson Free Lance, writing from Aurora, Esmeralda county, says: "The town is beginning to get lively, lots of men coming in every day and everybody at work. The Humboldt mill will start up shortly. Houses can be rented readily, going off like hot cakes. The English Company are putting on every man they can get hold of. They will start up the Del Monte mill next week on Humboldt ore."

The Chinese at Truckee.
 The pressure brought to bear by the organized efforts of Truckee has resulted in driving about all the Chinese from that locality, with the exception of a few who have wood-cutting contracts to complete. These will leave at the expiration of their contracts. The citizens propose having a grand illumination and torchlight procession next Saturday evening, in rejoicing over getting rid of the Chinese.

Indian School at Carson.
 Congressman Woodburn, on Monday, introduced a bill for the erection of an Indian school building at Carson.

Sharon's Bequest to the Orphans.
 It has not yet been decided, says the Carson Free Lance, what shall be done with Senator Sharon's bequest of $5,000 to the State Orphan's Home. A few days ago the writer had a conversation in reference to it with Fred, the son of the deceased Senator. It was said to him that the Board of Directors would like from him an expression as to what should be done with the money. Various suggestions had been made by friends of the Home, such as the purchase of additional land, introducing gas into the various departments, furnishing up a fine library, buying some blooded cows, repairing the present buildings, and erecting a new building to be used for an industrial department for the boys and girls. He replied that it was not his father's intention to have the money either directly or indirectly benefit the tax-payers of the State, but it was his wish to have this money expended where it would add either to the happiness or improvement of the children. He said he had not given the matter much thought, but would think an industrial school would be of as much use to the children as anything. At all events he would acquiesce in any action the Board might take. The money, he said, is now subject to the order of the Board of Directors.

A Series of Institutes Proposed.
 The Superintendent of Public Instruction proposes this Spring to assist in holding a series of Teachers' Institutes in the various counties. With this in view he has written for their co-operation to the Superintendents of Schools of the following counties: Douglas, Elko, Esmeralda, Eureka, Humboldt, Lander, Lyon, Ormsby, Storey and Washoe. The Commissioners of each of these counties will be asked to set aside $100 towards defraying the expenses of the same, in accordance with Sec. 2, Article IX, of the School Laws of the State of Nevada. Speakers from abroad will be secured. The improved methods of teaching will be suggested, and a general awakening in educational matters will be the result of these educational gatherings. These Institutes must stimulate to healthy growth our State educational system or schools as they have done educational systems of other States of this country and those of foreign countries, and they should be encouraged by every true friend of education in Nevada.

A New Era for the Comstock.
 The Free Lance says:
 Some weeks ago Supt. W. H. Armstrong, of the Brunswick Mill, purchased at a cost of $2,000 a Golden Gate Concentrator. For some days the concentrator has been in operation in the mill of which he has charge. It reduces to concentrations 30 tons per day. One hundred and forty-five tons of gold are reduced to one ton of concentrations. Thus the pans have but one forty-fifth as much work to do as formerly; i. e. of 145 tons of ore but one ton is run through the pans. By this new process of reducing ore there will be a reduction of several dollars per ton in the cost of reducing ore to bullion. Comstock ores heretofore valueless will now pay a profit. The Yellow Jacket, on the ore of which the Brunswick Mill is now running, will take a new lease of life. Bob Morrow the principal owner of the Jacket mine estimates that there are in sight in the mine at least a million tons of low grade ore that under the new process will pay for milling. The ore is known to be on three levels, and is 800 feet long and 300 feet deep. The Yellow Jacket has years of future awaiting her, and this new process of reducing ore must usher in a new era of mining for the whole Comstock lode.

Life Diplomas and Educational Diplomas.

 Also Educational Diplomas were granted to the following named persons:
 Mrs. Mary S. Doten, Reno; Miss Minnie M. Leslie, Dayton; Kate Hodgkinson, Belle Ryan, Kate Bardenwerper, Carson; Julia A. Michelson, Virginia; Albert F. Price, Franktown; Fannie H. Robinson and T. P. McDonald, Gold Hill; Alonzo C. Webb, Dayton.

BOARD OF REGENTS.
 Election of Principals—The University at Reno to open on March 1—Qualifications—Admission—Reports of Officers, Etc.

Interpellated 19th.
 The Board of Regents met at Carson yesterday, Messrs. Gitchell and Shaw present. Professor Orvis Ring, of Reno, was elected Principal of the Preparatory department, his services to begin on March 1 next, which date was fixed for the opening of the first term at Reno. Supervising architect Curtis reported that the building would be ready to be turned over to the Regents on or before February 1 next. Regent Gitchell was appointed a committee of one with power to procure an insurance for $15,000 on the new University building and to secure a junior to take care of the property. Regent Shaw submitted a report embodying the qualifications required for the admission of students, the course of studies, etc. Circulars containing the same were directed to be printed for general distribution throughout the State. Candidates for admission must be not less than fifteen years of age, and will be required to pass an examination in spelling, reading, writing, descriptive geography, grammar, history of the United States, arithmetic, including common and decimal fractions, measurements and all the rules of percentage. They must obtain an average in all the studies examined of seventy-five per cent. A certificate is required in each case that the applicant is of good moral character, and that he or she has exhibited proficiency in the above-stated studies, the said certificate to be signed by his or her teacher, and countersigned by the County School Superintendent. Applicants for admission are requested to make application in writing to Professor Ring, who will in due time notify them when to appear for examination. The circulars containing all the information needed by students desiring to enter either the academic or mining department will be issued as soon as they can be printed. Controller Hallock submitted reports showing that there is now to the credit of the University Fund (30,000-acre grant) $29,153 31, and to the credit of the State University Fund $12,267 21. The Deputy Surveyor General submitted a report showing the number of acres sold since the order was passed increasing the price of land contiguous to springs and streams. Upon the application of the Board, the State Capitol Commissioners assigned a room in the Capitol building for the use of the Regents.

Depot Hotel.
 Everything is running nicely at the Depot Hotel under the new management of Johnny Fitzgerald and Bob Parry, and the boys are maintaining the standard kept by Chamberlain. No better managers could have taken hold of it, and full of vigor and energy, they are determined to leave nothing undone that will bring the traveling public into close relations with them. Certain rooms have been reduced to fifty cents per night, while the general charges have been cut to $2 50 and $2 per day. Special inducements are offered to families. Passengers and train men are offered liberal inducements; lunches are now furnished in the dining room. The bar is well stocked with the finest brands of liquors, and the Journal is glad to know that times are lively around this popular place.

Anti-Chinese Meeting.
 The anti Chinese meeting at Carson last Saturday evening was well attended. Seymour Pixley was elected Chairman, and speeches were indulged in by Governor Loughton, R. R. Parkinson, Dr. Herrick, Mr. Thorne, Thomas Milard, George Bryson, A. Livingston, S. P. Davis and others. Resolutions expressing the sense of the house on the Chinese question were adopted, and committees on organization, constitution and by-laws and canvassing were appointed, who are to report at the next meeting, on Saturday next.

The State Prison.
 Warden Frank Bell reports that the total expense of maintaining the State Prison during the year 1912 was $10,234 20. There was expended on the boat and shoe shop account the sum of $10,321 85. The average amount of fresh meat used was 5,838 1/2 pounds a month. The Warden put up forty-five tons of ice, which will be enough to keep the Prison supplied all next Summer.

The Carson Free Lance affirmatively answers our categorical inquiry if it will pull an ore with the Times-Review in the anti-sack boat next Fall. There are a few more ores to man, for which volunteers are wanted—also a skillful and reliable coxswain. The shipping office is open at all hours.—Times-Review.
